University of Nairobi (SONU) students are going to the ballot to elect new leaders of the Students Organization of Nairobi University (SONU) for the year 2016.

Voting at the College of Health Sciences kicked off smoothly at 8:00 am on 1st April, 2016 students thronged into the polling station located at the School of Medicine boardroom to cast their votes.

Various students are vying for different posts in the union, the major ones being the Chairman and Vice Chair, Secretary General, Organizing Secretary, Campus Representative, Faculties/Schools/Institutes Representatives, Halls Representatives among other positions.

The voting exercise is expected to go on until 6:00 pm, when the polling station will be closed to allow the election officials to start counting the votes and later on announce the winners.

The winners will be sworn in on Saturday 2nd, 2016 by the University's Chief Legal Officer.
